

Steve Ingram

Director, Growth Strategies

Steve has more than 30 years of experience delivering innovative software solutions and architecture, and managing programs for the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), all while delighting his customers.

As Rigil's Director, Growth Strategies, he is responsible for expanding our products and services into new commercial, federal, and defense markets. Prior to joining the Leadership Team, he oversaw several IT modernization FAA contracts while serving as Director, Federal Programs. He's also led large customer-facing projects including implementing the StrataGem™ platform at the agency, which was recognized for transforming learning in the air traffic controller training space.

Steve is a talented creative thinker with an expansive skillset in program management, software design, videography, and productivity processes. He is a certified Project Management Professional (PMP).

He resides in the Oklahoma City area.